

I accepted Jesus as Lord and savior as a young man. My service was that of serving through the local church until late 2002. I was called into the ministry and preaching as an older man I gladly accepted Gods call, considering it an honor. Having just completed an Associates Degree in electronic engineering and planning on continuing my education with a Bachelors degree I thought my life was planned out. Gods call changed all of that, I continued my education in Bible college and the seminary. Since Gods call I have experienced many trials and tribulations, but God has been faithful. Through spousal abandonment, health issues and even the friends of Job, God has brought me through the valleys to the mountain top. It is a pleasure to serve Him and testify of His mercy and grace.
